ENGAGEMENT, PARTNERSHIP, AND SUPPORT

LEARNING OBJECTIVE:

To strengthen the home-school partnership and collaboration.

Parental involvement in the KG department has been highly encouraging and enriching for our little learners. Parents actively participated in a variety of classroom activities, creating a collaborative and supportive learning environment. Storytelling sessions by parents were particularly engaging, capturing the children's imagination and enhancing their listening and comprehension skills.

In addition to storytelling, parents contributed to numerous hands-on activities, including art and craft sessions, show-and-tell presentations, and interactive games. These activities allowed children to explore creativity, develop fine motor skills, and build confidence in expressing themselves. Parents also assisted in group projects and cultural celebrations, fostering a sense of community and teamwork within the classroom.

Their consistent presence and participation have strengthened the home-school connection, motivating children and making learning more meaningful and enjoyable. Overall, parental involvement has greatly contributed to the holistic development of our KG learners, creating memorable experiences that support both academic and social growth.

LEARNING OUTCOME:

The involvement of parents reinforced positive learning habits and motivation.
