BRIEF REPORT

A Book Cover Page Design Competition was organized in our school library on 26 June (Friday). The event was conducted as a house-wise competition with the theme "The Story Behind Me." The competition aimed to encourage students to express their creativity, imagination, and artistic skills through innovative book cover designs.

Students from all the houses participated enthusiastically in the competition. Each participant designed an attractive and meaningful book cover based on the given topic, "The Story Behind Me. The covers included creative titles, illustrations, and color combinations that reflected the story's theme. Students used various art materials such as sketch pens, crayons, watercolors, colored pencils, and drawing sheets.

The competition was judged on the basis of creativity, originality, relevance to the theme, neatness, and overall presentation. Teachers appreciated the students' imagination and effort, making the event both enjoyable and educational.

The Book Cover Page Design Competition was a great success. It provided students with an opportunity to showcase their creativity and understand the importance of visual presentation in storytelling. The competition made learning fun and encouraged students to think creatively. Such activities help nurture young talent and should be organized regularly in schools.
